Portage High School
Portage, Indiana

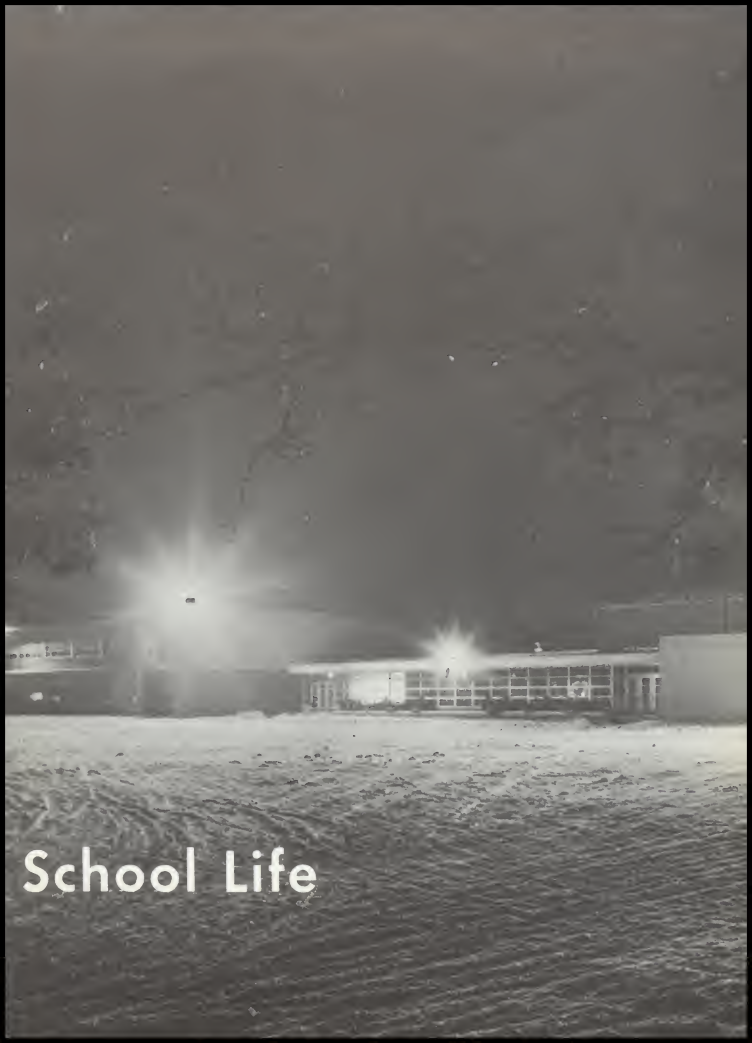

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT PORTAGE . . .

. . . Portage is unique. School life and academics both hold important places in our school day. We enjoy ourselves on the morning buses or by our lockers before class; we cherish the fellowship of eating with our friends at lunch, sitting on the "jungle" wall, or playing basketball in the gym; we look forward to the final bell at 3 p.m., the rush to catch our buses, or that important club meeting we must attend. But, when it is classtime, we become serious and try to learn all that we can so that we may have a better life and a better world in which to live . . .

. . . Let's take time to appreciate and evaluate our school . . .

Let's Take

a Look at . . .

School Life

WAITING ANXIOUSLY, Bill Newmon peers over the desk as Mr. Maurice Tolbert looks at his written excuse and fills out an absence slip.

PORTAGE HIGH'S FRIENDLY POLICEMAN, Mr. Merv Delmoge, helps to control the traffic problem as the school's 24 buses, one by one, turn into the back parking lot to unload students for the day.

Lingering outside on a warm, sunny morning after the buses arrive or pushing through the doors to escape the sharp, winter wind is the way we—1448 Portage Indians—begin our day. After depositing our coats, books, and packed lunches in our lockers, we rush to the library to do that last minute studying, line up for our absence slips at the attendance office, or buy game tickets and school supplies at the bookstore.

The first bell rings; we say our farewells to the friends we've been joking with in the halls or by the lockers and hurry to our first hour's classes to start another school day at Portage.

HANDING OVER HIS MONEY to Mrs. Mary Cantwell, Jim Shaw stocks up on a paper in the bookstore before he goes to his first class.

AMATEUR BUSINESSMAN Bob Yeager checks the papers in the library for the latest stock trends in preparation for economics class.

Before-School Activities Keep Students on Go

GRADING PAPERS, DUPLICATING TEST COPIES, and discussing new developments keep faculty members busy in the teachers' workroom before classes begin for the day.

JUNIOR ENGLISH STUDENTS Terry Heck and Peggy Heckman listen attentively as Mr. Gerald Hundt explains a fine point of literature.

MR. JOHN ALEXANDER passes out grammar textbooks at the beginning of the semester to the students in his sophomore English class.

English, Journalism Pave Way to Expression,

WORKING HARD on an English term paper, senior Treva Wilson organizes her notes before writing the final outline.

Portage was one of the forty pilot schools in Indiana participating in a nation wide experimental English program this year. The three-track plan of the program was to challenge slow, average, and exceptional students. The new teaching methods used showed marked successes in many classes, and the experiment will continue for three more years. The English department also added two new faculty members this year.

Many students have taken speech as a preparation for college and careers. The topics used this year ranged from "How to Bake Cookies" to "The Dress of a Moroccan Man." Reading the daily announcements over the public address system gave students experience in speaking into a microphone.

Journalism was offered to a group of nineteen freshmen for the first time. In September all the journalism classes took a trip to the office of the Gary Post Tribune. Many journalism students held positions on the staffs of the Pow Wow and Legend.

JUNIOR LITERATURE STUDENTS Bill Thomas, Tom Knight, Ken Dailey, and Jahn Martin act out the play "In the Zone."

Open Avenues to Careers

PRACTICING THE FUNDAMENTALS of public speaking, senior Connie Wagoner takes her stand behind the podium in speech class.

MR. BUD DREESEN of the East Chicago Globe shows Pow Wow editor Treva Wilson how to set headlines.

MRS. MARJORIE HERREN explains to junior Kathy Aydelotte the permanent record filing system used in the guidance office.

COLLEGE MATERIALS in the guidance office aid junior Keith Hostetter in making plans for his future.

STUDENTS' PERSONAL and school history records are handy aids for Mrs. Margaret Telle in solving guidance problems.

MRS. SUE JONGSMA, library secretary, helps Mr. Warren Munro choose a film strip to show in one of his classes.

The guidance counselors played an important role in helping students plan their high school courses and select colleges and future occupations. Advising students on personal problems was also an important task of the five counselors. In the guidance office, extensive materials on colleges, entrance requirements, scholarships, and occupations were available to students throughout the year. Special tests to find out students' aptitudes and interests were administered to the different grade levels by Mr. William Souders, the school psychometrist.

The library continued to be an asset to the school this year with 10,800 books on the shelves, ten sets of encyclopedias, and many other special facilities. Tapes of foreign languages, shorthand dictation, English, and popular musicals were available for students to listen to in the sound-proof booths. Foreign language records could be checked out by those wishing to improve their language skills. Seventy-seven different magazines, eight newspapers, and extensive pamphlet materials were kept for reference purposes.

Librarians, Counselors Render Vital Services

UP-TO-DATE MAGAZINES in the library entertain Ed Monette and Charles Davison as they relax in the lounge area during study hall.

LIBRARY AID Melodee Ranger checks out a book to senior Jim Monroe as Becky Dugger renews George Marshall's overdue book.

The growing importance of foreign languages in high school was reflected in this year's language department by the addition of five new language teachers. In the different classes, students made use of tapes and records as well as giving speeches and participating in dialogues and discussions in the language. A language table in the cafeteria gave the pupils a chance to practice their conversational abilities on a more informal basis.

New materials, studies of the national election, and two new teachers were added this year in the social studies department. World and U.S. history students were encouraged to participate in an outside reading program, enabling them to view historical situations through the eyes of those who were there. New textbooks were used by the history and geography classes with co-ordinating maps for added interest. In the senior government and economic classes, students were encouraged to take sides on the controversial subject of automation and on the important election issues during the presidential campaign.

CLAUDE STRAIN, foreign language honors exchange student, tells the second year Spanish Class of his stay in Monterrey, Mexico.

Social Studies, Foreign Language Classes

PERSONAL CONSULTATION makes Mr. Jerome Vaughn's government course easier for seniors Connie Voil and Leigh Speer.

UPON COMPLETING his Latin translation, Kerry Sarkkinen turns from the board to seek the approval of his classmates. Mrs. Donno

IN THE PRIVACY of the voting booth a student casts her ballot in the mock election sponsored by the Student Citizenship Society.

GERMAN SKITS make learning the language more fun for 'waiter' Paul Wilson and 'customers' Terry Sarkkinen and Mory Nahr.

Review Past Civilizations and Cultures

TRYING FOR THE RIGHT PITCH, Mr. Robert Wilson and his U.S. history class prepare to sing 'The Star Spangled Banner'.

Steinmann stands by to help the first year students with their word order, noun-verb agreement, and case endings.

Between-Classes Rush Breaks Up Day's Routine

COMPARING REPORT CARDS, Steve Sutton and Barbara Gillispie take time before their class begins to see each other's six-week grades.

BEATING THE CROWD, Mrs. Mary Martin goes to her mailbox in the teacher's workroom to collect important information and announcements which she must have before going to her next class.

FINDING THEIR PICTURES in the 1964 Legend, Terry Kleban, Carol Harbough, and Chuck Stout take a between class break by the "jungle."

A SHORTCUT through the courtyard gives students a breath of fresh air before going to their next hour's classes.

A hurried trip to the locker for more books before the start of the next class or a leisurely chat by the "jungle" with that "someone special" occupied the five minutes of between-class time of most pupils. Other students used the extra time to study for an upcoming test while some lined up at the drinking fountain for a quick refresher.

Driver's education classes were important in teaching students correct driving attitudes and proper behind-the-wheel techniques. Students were required to have 30 hours of in-class instruction before being allowed to drive. Several new movies on safe driving were shown to the classes and reaction tests were given to those taking the course during second semester. Basic car mechanics along with proper car care were also taught. To complete the course, students were required to have six hours of actual driving in one of the dual-control cars.

Art, Homemaking Pupils Practice Creative Skills

THE MASCULINE HANDS of Bob Polizzotta and Jerry Kapica prepare a special dish for boys' home economics class.

A term paper, sketch book, and participation in the annual Gordon's art contest and art exhibit were on the agenda for the five art classes this year. Beginners concentrated on color values and hues as well as painting with water colors and working with papier-mache. Ceramics, sculpturing techniques, and Cubism were studied by the intermediate classes. The advanced classes dealt with oil painting and ceramics.

The beginning sewing classes studied operation and care of the machine plus basic sewing techniques. Simple cotton skirts and jumpers were made as in-class projects. More difficult sewing problems plus the elements of color, design, and line in relation to figure problems were studied in detail by the intermediate classes. An advanced course of professional tailoring and pressing techniques was offered. Home nursing and child care was required in second year home economics.

Basic cooking methods, nutrition, consumer buying, and management were offered to beginning and intermediate cooking students. Meat cookery was the field of study in the advanced class.

ART STUDENT Mary Miller practices proper water color techniques as one of her in-class projects.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS made as home projects by the family and housing classes are arranged in the display case by Cheryl Albright.

THE BETTER PRODUCTS of the art classes pottery-making project are placed into the art room display case by senior Bob Taylor.

BEGINNING home economics student Carol Slezak is assisted by Mrs. Shorron Rose in pinning up the hem in her sewing project.

ADVANCED ARTS students Cheri Mahns and Pat Cline study the mood of Cheri's painting against the background of the jungle.

Musically-Inclined Entertain at Games,

BOWING BEFORE THE CROWD, drum major Al Krabbenhoeft leads the varsity band in the grand finale of their halftime performance.

This year's Concert Choir was composed of 98 members chosen from the choir classes. Under the direction of Mr. George Myers, the choir sang at three convocations. The choir entered the state music contest in the spring, and individual members had the opportunity to enter solos and ensembles in the vocal contest.

Tryouts for the Portage Singers were held in the early fall due to the great demand for engagements. Ten girls and eight boys were chosen for the group which appeared at three school concerts and on the programs of many local organizations.

The 12 students in the music theory class used a college textbook which acquainted them with the structure of music. The final product of the course was a song composed by each student. Students in the music history and appreciation class increased their enjoyment of music through a better understanding of its history.

D. Drummond, L. Longel, P. Dorley, S. Donohue, J. Wehner, B. Dunn, L. Koyes, B. Gibson, C. Marshall, T. Douglas, P. Johnson, R. Knuth, J. Chondler, P. Winn; Row 5: J. Bercus, J. Foutch, T. The Concert Band previewed two concerts at special convocations and played Christmas carols at the Christmas Convocation. The group fulfilled requests to play at the dedication of the South Haven Elementary School and the ceremony for the awarding of the soldiers medal to C. F. Kinchloe. They received a second place rating in the state contest at Angola.

Tryouts determined which Concert Band members became players in the Pep Band and Dance Band. The Pep Band enlivened pep sessions and bolstered school spirit by playing for all home basketball games. The Dance Band provided musical entertainment for the annual Adam and Eve Dinner and also played for social functions at the request of local organizations and area high schools.

Presenting half-time shows for home football games was the main activity of the Marching Band. They also presented the half-time show for the Valparaiso University Homecoming Game. The Fourth of July, Veterans Day, and Memorial Day parades included the Marching Band, which achieved a second place in the marching contest at Valparaiso this year.

The Orchestra Class, meeting sixth hour with Mr. John Unger, performed with the junior high orchestra in the Junior High Spring Concert and for a meeting of the music parents.

PEP BAND—Front Row: B. Gibson, D. Willord, K. Sarkkinen, K. Doiley, T. Nicoletto, T. Ewen, B. Hilty; Row 2: J. Burge, B. Blair, T. McMurry, L. Stenton, B. Zborowski, B. Stenchino, A. Krobberhoeft, T. Skinner; Row 3: B. Oswald, M. Miloch, C. Wampler, E. Jackson, M. Gum, M. Bey, J. Myhre, G. Spetz.

DIRECT DICTATION drills give beginning shorthand student Barbara Klimek a chance to increase her speed.

Business, Industrial Arts Pupils Study for Future

More students gained experience in business courses this year as two additional rooms were equipped with typewriters and two new teachers joined the department. Students in office machines classes interviewed persons in particular careers and then made reports to their classes on all aspects of that career. The advertising class took a trip to the office of the Gary Post Tribune and helped plan a campaign to finance the building of a swimming pool at Portage.

The industrial arts department was busy this year with plans for the addition of a new building and new courses. The house built by the vocational building trades class was completed this year and will be sold in the near future. The printing class served the school by printing corridor passes and programs for athletic events. During Christmas the school was decorated with a large star built and wired by the electricity class.

KEEPING THE RULES in mind, beginning typist Al Krabbenhaef types with eyes on copy, feet on floor, back straight, and fingers curved.

TACKLING A GREASY JOB, Russ Marshall, Lorry Brown, and Ernest Blohm adjust a carburetor during their vocational auto mechanics class.

OFFICE PRACTICE STUDENT Peggy Porritt learns to operate the mimeograph machine as one of her assignments.

WITH A STEADY HAND, Jim Martin completes a circuit in an experiment with a dry cell in electronics class.

Pupils Relax, Chat with Friends During Lunch

Dashing for the lunch line as soon as the bell rings or crowding around the milk counter with our packed lunches clutched firmly in our hands is the typical beginning for our four separate lunch periods. After leaving the cafeteria, we each have our own type of enjoyment—sitting on the brick wall by the "jungle," talking with our friends, studying at the hall tables for our next class, or playing basketball in the gym to work off excess energy. Some of us dance to pass away the minutes left before the bell, while others line up to use the phone. But whatever we do, lunch period provides us with a chance to relax from the day's routine and an opportunity to be with our friends before going back to our classes.

FOOD FOR THE HEARTY is served daily to over 1000 hungry Indians by cafeteria cooks and student helpers.

WHILE ENJOYING THEIR LUNCHES, several faculty members meet at the teachers' table in the cafeteria to exchange views on the day's events.

RELAXING AT THE HALL TABLES during lunch, Peggy Stathis and Poul Boyette talk over their day's activities.

WATER, WATER—at last a drop to drink! Senior Judy Dennison enjoys a noontime stop at the new drinking fountain.

NOONTIME BASKETBALL games encourage friendly competition as well as providing an outlet for excess energy.

The Science Department began the year anxious to make the improvements suggested by the North Central Association. While making plans for the new labs and equipment, the teachers worked with the limited equipment to attain their goals.

For the college-bound, biology, botany and zoology, chemistry, advanced chemistry, and physics were offered. Those for whom a high school education was terminal took general science. Related physics and psychology appealed to those with special interests in these fields.

A total of eight mathematics courses ranging from general mathematics to college math were offered during the past year. Those enrolled in general math learned the basic principles upon which more advanced courses depend. Applied business and vocational math classes aided the career-minded. Algebra I and II pupils worked with unknowns, while plane geometry, advanced math, and college math students work with theorems, slide rules, tables, and other media.

PLANE GEOMETRY student Mary Potryas constructs a diagram to demonstrate her problem in reasoning.

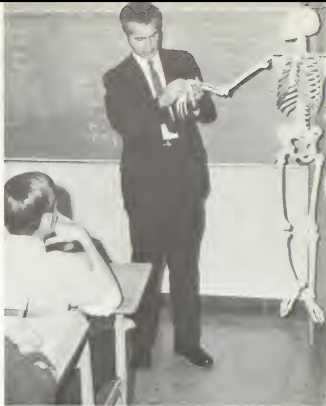

THE ADVANCED ALGEBRA CLASS receives a demonstration from Mr. Elwood Mull on how to divide on the slide rule.

WATCHING BOTH the cylinder gouge and the solution, Chip Coffey performs a titration experiment in chemistry class.

USING AN UNUSUAL METHOD to demonstrate surface tension, Mr. Jack Contwell blows bubbles during his physics class.

H-M-M, I THINK HER PULSE IS FAINT! Mr. Al Smith points out the various hand and wrist bones on the health and safety classes skeleton.

Math, Science Classes Offer Advanced Study

TACKLING THE UNPLEASANT job of dissecting his specimen, Dove Nobles prepares to explore the onotamy of o frog in Mr. Edwin Wiens botany and zoology class.

Students End Day with After-School Activities

The mad rush down the halls to our lockers from our last hour's classes does not end the school day for everyone. Some of us may have to stay for make-up tests Tuesday and Thursday nights, or we may practice basketball in the gym or play another team in one of our competitive sports.

Club meetings are also on our agenda since most of them meet during after-school hours when we have more time to enjoy ourselves in their numerous activities. Planning a special school dance or a class party at a committee meeting in the library may keep us busy after the final bell rings. Or, we may spend our after-school time using the many research facilities in the library for our term papers or special reports. Some of us may go to one of the typing rooms and practice keyboard control, while others may hurry for a conference with a teacher. Or, we may work for several hours in one of our publications offices in the "old junior high" to meet an important deadline.

CARRYING THEIR BOOKS for the night's homework, juniors Val Bickel and Cheryl Rogers head home as another school day ends.

THE RUSH BEGINS at 3 p.m. to fill the black-long line of buses. Stretching across the west parking lot between Portage High and

AFTER A CLUB MEETING Burnis Davis and Bill Snyder make a phone call in hopes of getting a ride home.

WHILE WAITING for his bus to leave, John Tzitz enjoys reading the latest edition of the Pow Wow.

TEACHERS HAVE HOMEWORK, TOO! Mrs. Donno Steinmann settles down in the teachers' workroom to grade papers for her next day's classes.

Aylesworth Junior High, the 24 buses are quickly filled with students from both schools.

THE NEARLY DESERTED HALLS after the final bell rings give two students a chance to be alone before they part for the day.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT ACTIVITIES . . .

. . . Portage activities add "character" to the school year. We dance with our classmates at class parties and crown royalty, ranging from the pomp of our Homecoming Queen to "that thar" king and queen of Dogpatch, U.S.A. We sit and watch a drama, or perhaps a comedy, unfold before us at one of our plays, or we gather in the gym for an all-school convocation. We gaze starry-eyed at our partners as we parade in the Grand March during the enchantment of the Prom. And we walk down the aisle to receive our diplomas, then run out to shout "Here I am!" to a fickle world . . .

. . . Let's take time to remember a few of the joyous moments . . .

Let's Take

a Look at . . .

Activities

SOPHOMORE BOB JACKSON, Grand winner in the Regional Science Fair held at Volparaíso, explains his project "Model Rocketry and Research."

NEW HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS take the candlelighting pledge at their banquet while Mr. Bryan Shaddick passes out pins.

Induction of new members and the presentation of skits highlighted the Honor Society-Latin Club Banquet. Mrs. Ethel Jones, sponsor, was given a silver bowl by the Latin Club in appreciation of her service and sponsorship.

The Science Fair was held again this year for math and science students. At the Regional Fair, Bob Jackson won first place and received a citation from the U.S. Army.

Paul "Dizzy" Trout, a former pitcher for the White Sox, spoke at the Sports Banquet. Outstanding players in all sports were also announced.

The annual Art Exhibit was held this year in the all-purpose room. Mosaics, paintings, handicrafts, and sculpture were displayed.

Mr. Dick Kennard, from Newsfoto Publishing Company, spoke at the Journalism Honors Banquet. Outstanding service citations and Quill and Scroll members were announced.

GUEST SPEAKER at the Journalism Banquet, Mr. Dick Kennard from Newsfoto Publishing Company, stresses the importance of journalism in the field of communications.

FORMER WHITE SOX pitcher Paul "Dizzy" Trout speaks on "Win With Honor" at the Sports Banquet held in the gym.

AT THE GAA BANQUET, Miss Bernita Adkins gives her thanks for the hub cap taken off her car and presented to her as a gift by the senior GAA members.

Displays, Awards—Highlight Banquets, Exhibits

STUDENTS FROM BOTH the regular and the night classes displayed their projects at the Art Exhibit, which was held in the all-purpose room on May 7 and 8. Mosaics, oils, chorcools, and handicrafts, such as waven and hooked rugs, were on display.

HOMECOMING QUEEN Shirley Sobczok smiles regally after being officially crowned by Bob Hampton, Mr. Football for 1964.

NEWLY CROWNED Homecoming Queen Shirley Sobczok faces the crowd with 1963 Queen Lono Thompson and her escort, Bob Polizzotto.

CHEERLEADER Kathy Gerametto yells for the team as they score the winning touchdown in the Homecoming game.

Homecoming Adds Spark to Fall Season

Homecoming festivities were officially opened this year with the longest parade in Portage's history. Of the seven floats entered, the junior class float was chosen winner by a committee of seven faculty members. The Homecoming committee, headed by Mary Ann Barr, planned the format for all the Homecoming ceremonies. Through their efforts, the goal posts were decorated with red and white pompoms before the game.

Halftime ceremonies at the game included the introduction of the five senior candidates—Carol Hewitt, Peg Lambert, Lynn Snider, Shirley Sobczak, and Joyce Thomae—who had been chosen two weeks before by the senior boys. Mr. George Myers announced Shirley Sobczak as the student body's choice for queen. 1963 Queen Lana Thompson crowned Shirley, and Student Council president Bruce Garrison presented her with two dozen red roses. After the game, a coffee hour was held in the cafeteria for the alumni, seniors, and faculty members.

At the Homecoming dance, entitled "Fascination," approximately 130 couples danced to the music of the "Reflections." Since Lana was married that night and was unable to attend the crowning, Bob Hampton, Mr. Football for 1964, officially crowned Shirley.

SYMBOLIZING VICTORY, the freshman banfire leaps high into the frosty night air as PHS Indians chant Homecoming cheers.

THE JUNIOR FLOAT, first place winner in the Homecoming parade, is displayed next to the football field during the game.

All-School Dances Highlight Year's Activities

LITTLE ABNER (Bruce Funkel) and Daisy Mae (Barb Chell) reign over the Sadie Hawkins Dance after being crowned and presented their prizes by Sonja Cassidy and Nancy Bakken.

TERRY KLEBAN and Karen Cruikshank, his date for "Down Memory Lane" stop at the refreshment table between dances.

Ninety couples enjoyed the "Winter Enchantment" at this year's Christmas Dance sponsored by the senior class. The "Reflections" provided music. White walls, black lights, false ceiling, and a Christmas tree provided the background for the dance, which was held in the cafeteria.

The Girls' Athletic Association raised money for its many activities and its annual banquet by sponsoring a turnabout Valentine Dance on February 20. For the first time, the Valentine Dance was held in the gym, which was decorated in red, pink, and white streamers. The stage wall was decorated with three huge hearts. The theme for the dance was "Down Memory Lane," and the music was provided by the "Rousers." One hundred forty-three couples attended the dance and saw Angie Barr crowned queen.

Marryin' Sam and Divorcin' Dan, who also go by the names of Mr. Jack Cantwell and Mr. Kenneth Woodruff, were present at the Sadie Hawkins Dance, also sponsored by the GAA. Barbara Chelf, a 1964 graduate, and Bruce Funkey were elected king and queen of the county of Dogpatch. Three records were given away as prizes in the lip-sing contest.

AT THE "ROARING TWENTIES" dance, sponsored by the FNC, students do a modern version of the Charleston.

VALENTINE DANCE ROYALTY with escorts—Rich Crownover, Donna Busch, Rick Pozera, Micky Orasz, Queen Angie Barr, Bob Polizzatto, Sandy Hughes, Norm Harris. A younger brother and sister of GAA members carried the Queen's crown and roses.

Dramatics Furnish Outlet for Self-Expression

Rehearsals with strikes and blows set the scene for the "Miracle Worker." Two months of strenuous practice gave Portage's Helen Keller (Diane Pierce) and her teacher Ann (Paula Foxx) many bruises. Mr. Dennis Norman, the director, chose the "Miracle Worker" for the November 24 and 25 play and the comedy "You Can't Take It With You" for the April 23 and 24 production.

After cast try-outs, about two months of regular practice followed, during which the casts rehearsed the play many times, adding new movements and expressions each rehearsal. Scenery for both plays consisted of old flats painted by the casts; Goodwill Industries donated needed furniture to complete the sets. Costumes were provided by the individuals needing them, with mothers sometimes being recruited to sew the needed clothes. A cast party followed the final performance of each play, serving as a reward for hard-working actors and actresses.

PREPARING FOR HER ROLE in "The Miracle Worker," Melodie Brooks puts on her costume backstage before the play begins.

REVENUE AGENT in "You Can't Take It With You" (Kathy Ziegler) tries to convince "Grandfather" (Bob Hirsch) that he should pay his income taxes while "Mother" (Candy Lard) tries to decide whose side of the argument she is on.

HER SIGHT AND HEARING GONE, Helen Keller (Diana Pierce) fights to get her way with two servant children, played by Mary Patryas and Randy Gunter.

DIRECTOR OF "The Miracle Worker" Mr. Dennis Norman watches the play with intensity as he operates the spotlight from the balcony.

"ED" (Terry Kleban) scrutinizes "Essie's" (Carol Bulger) ballet steps in the play "You Can't Take It With You."

Convocations Instruct, Entertain, Create Interest

AT THE HOMECOMING convocation, Coach Robert Smith predicts a PHS victory over East Gary for a chance of the CC crown.

SANTA'S 'ELFLETES' Bob Polizotta and Jerry Kopica excitedly tell Master of Ceremonies Ken Royster that Santo is on his way.

The Student Council convocation committee with members Diane Kubiak, Ken Royster, Charles Daniels, and Larry Drake has given the student body both the usual and the unusual convocations. The football convocation gave the students a chance to meet the players and coaches and to become acquainted with some of the rules of the game. A special safety convocation featuring Mr. Robert Veith, a racing car driver, stressed the importance of safety on the roads. As usual, Santa Claus and his helpers were the main events of the Christmas convocation. Along with Santa, a performance by the Concert Band was given.

Towards the end of the year, the Honor Society held its convocation to formally induct and honor the new and old members. Awards Day was also planned by the Honor Society. During this convocation special scholarships, honors, and award winners were announced.

DURING THE AWARDS DAY CONVOCATION, Mrs. Margaret Boird presents senior Donna Mohnssen the award for Outstanding Business Student.

SPORTS CAR DRIVER Bob Veith speaks to the student body on safe driving on today's highways.

AT THE HONOR SOCIETY CONVO, Mr. Shaddick shakes hands with "new member" Roger Magle after he was introduced to the student body by "old member" Donna Mohnssen.

"Roman Rendezvous" was chosen by the junior class as the theme for the 1965 Prom held in honor of the graduating senior class. Couples entering the gym were greeted by the reception line, which was made up of sponsors, class officials, and school officials. The decorations—white pillars, black lights, and a floodlit fountain—carried out the Roman theme. Led by the junior and senior class presidents and their dates, the Grand March was viewed from the balcony by parents and underclassmen. The Michael Golden Orchestra played for this year's Prom. Couples stopped to talk and drink punch at the tables set up in the "jungle" hallway.

After the Prom a buffet dinner was served; couples ate at card tables set up in the courtyard. The After-Prom party, held at the Chapel of the Dunes in Miller, featured entertainment by Ellis the Hypnotist and dancing until 5 a.m. to the music of the Tra-Vels. The party was chaperoned by parents and attended by more than 150 couples.

Graduation Opens Door to Future Achievements

A REPRESENTATIVE from the E. E. Moore Company measures senior Linda Zonder for her cap and gown.

At one o'clock, May 28, a seven-day decathlon called collectively "Graduation" was begun by the class of 1965. On that day, the class set a record number of practices for Baccalaureate when it marched in and out of the gym five times before perfecting the processional. On Sunday, the blue-robed boys and white-robed girls listened to the Reverend Hartley E. Freeman ask them "What are you looking for in life? Is your aim high enough?"

Mrs. Mary S. Myers played the organ prelude as the class marched in for their commencement exercises. After an invocation by the choir, led by Mr. Myers, co-salutatorians John Pratt and Rick Levak spoke on "A Key" and "Horizons" respectively. After the choir sang "No Man Is An Island," Mary McKittrick presented her Valedictory, "The Long Hill." The seniors moved their tassels from left to right, becoming officially graduated, after Mr. Shaddick presented the class and Mr. Aylesworth gave them their long-awaited diplomas.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT HONORS . . .

. . . Portage students and faculty are outstanding. We enter university language programs, receive scholarships from colleges and community organizations, and are awarded special grants and fellowships. We are also honored by the school itself for outstanding scholastic achievement, for service, and for leadership and ability in the field of sports. During the year, those of us who have achieved these special honors are recognized at banquets, exhibits, and at the annual Honors' Day program held for the entire student body.

. . . Let's take time to recognize our students' and faculty's achievements . . .

Honors

SPANISH SCHOLARSHIP winner Rita Stone discusses her plans for her stay in Mexico with Mrs. Mary Davalos.

TOP HONORS in the senior class went to Salutatorian Rick Levack, Valedictorian Mary McKittrick, and Salutatorian John Pratt.

Outstanding Students Awarded School Grants

SENIOR JOYCE THOMAE was named as the Ricky Avery Scholarship winner during the Awards Day Convocation.

Eleven years ago, Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Avery established a scholarship in memory of their son, Ricky, to be given to a senior who excells in academics and leadership. Through contributions, $100 was awarded at the Awards Day Convocation to a youth meeting these standards.

The Rowena Kyle Memorial Scholarship was established by her husband and the Drama Club. One hundred dollars, to be used in the field of liberal art, was awarded to a deserving senior.

Started in 1958-59, the FTA Scholarship amounts to $225. The recipient must be a senior, a member of FTA, and college bound. Selection is based on scholastic record, potential ability as a teacher, and the need for the award.

A new scholarship was added this year by the Spanish Club. To apply, students had to be at least sixteen years old and have had two years of high school Spanish. The award is given according to need.

At the end of the senior year, the class standing of each pupil is calculated for all four years by a standard point system. The student with the highest point average is valedictorian and the student placing second is named salutatorian. These people deliver speeches during the Commencement exercises.

FTA SCHOLARSHIP winner Peggy Lambert cadet teaches a second grade class at Myers Elementary school.

FTA SPONSOR Mrs. Margaret Telle presents senior Joanne Rasenbaum one of the FTA scholarships for $250.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC GESTURE is displayed by Candy Lard, Dramo Club scholarship winner in the play "You Can't Take it With You."

Scholarship, leadership, and service were recognized in many Portage students by the school, the community, and colleges. Sixteen seniors were awarded scholarships to study a variety of subjects and trades. The DAR Award was given to a Portage senior for outstanding citizenship in the school and community.

Honors in foreign languages were won by several students. Portage's two winners in Indiana University's Honors Program will study in Germany and Mexico this summer. The Spanish classes had a winner in the National Spanish Examination. Two seniors earned advanced placement in Indiana University's foreign language tests.

Four people were awarded Latin Keys this year. An A in Latin for three years or a B+ for four years was the basis for selection.

SENIOR JOYCE THOMAE was chosen as the recipient of the local Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award.

Edith Munro, Joy Belles, Kathleen McIntosh, and John Wellman are hopeful of being able to study in another country during the summer months.

LATIN KEY RECIPIENTS were Carol Golko, Charles Daniels, Ken Englund, and Fred Lindner.

AS A RESULT of the Indiana University foreign language tests, seniors Margaret Causey and Cloude Strain won advanced placement in French and Spanish respectively.

Sports Honors Given at Awards' Day, Banquet

MR. WRESTLERS Edgar Hall and Bob Hampton are given their awards at the Sports Banquet by Mr. Jack Contwell.

DEAN RULIS accepts the award for Mr. Swimmer from swimming coach Jan Jepsen.

G. A. A. SPONSOR Miss Bernita Adkins presents Ja Anne Rasenbaum the G. A. A. local and state and the Outstanding G. A. A. Senior Award.

At the Sports Banquet, held for all students who had participated in Sports during the year, the Most Valuable Player in each sport was announced by the respective coaches. Each team voted on the boy whom they thought contributed the most to their team during the season.

This year the faculty and athletic staff chose two boys as recipients of the James Benfield Memorial Award. The winners were selected on the basis of outstanding achievement in athletics, scholarship, and attitude.

The G. A. A. gave three awards during the Awards Day program. The G. A. A. Local and State Award and the G. A. A. Outstanding Senior Award were based on outstanding activity in the club and the number of points accumulated.

JAMES BENFIELD MEMORIAL AWARD winners were seniors Paul Boyette and Al Bradford.

BOB HAMPTON, Mr. Football, accepts his award from Mr. Robert Smith. Bob was chosen as Mr. Football during the Homecoming season.

Honors Concentrate on Academic Achievements

The business faculty selected the recipient of the Outstanding Business Student Award as the person most likely to be successful in college business courses and in the business world. Miss Secretary was selected by the students and teachers of the advanced shorthand and office practice classes on the basis of personal characteristics and skills.

A senior girl with a major in home economics was chosen by the home economics students and faculty and presented with the Outstanding Home Economics Student Award. The Industrial Education Award was given to a senior boy who had achieved exceptional skill in the industrial arts through four years of high school.

Members of the publications staffs nominated candidates for the Most Valuable Staffer Award, who was then chosen by the four staff advisors. The Outstanding Journalism Student was a senior who has maintained an "A" average in journalism and helped to improve the quality of publications at Portage over several years.

Outstanding juniors were honored by selection as flower girls and ushers at graduation.

JOURNALISM INSTITUTERS Peggy Porrott, Treva Wilson, Diane Kubiak, Linda Cooper, and Carol Galko studied their particular publications field for two weeks at I.U. during the summer. Linda won a first place award in her division of the yearbook editor's workshop.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' Stoters Jim Samuels, Marilyn Hatolo, and Ken England were chosen by the juniors and faculty to represent Portage.

The World Affairs Institute was sponsored again this year by the Rotary Club of Portage for a junior boy and girl. The purpose of this tour was to make the students more aware of current international events. Our delegates this year discussed with students from all over the Midwest the importance of France's role in the world scene.

At the Art Institute, Portage students studied various phases of art, from abstract painting to weaving. Art Institute can be compared to a summer school course in art on a college level.

Designed to improve the general quality of high school publications, the Indiana University Journalism Institute is held yearly for major staff members of the school publications. Portage students who attended the Institute this year came home with a fresh insight into newspaper and yearbook management and techniques.

The American Legion sponsored Boys' and Girls' State again this summer. The delegates received instruction in the workings of government and how it is set up.

Teachers Receive Recognition, Grants for Talents

Mr. Jack Cantwell received a Shell Merit Fellowship to Cornell University. He was one of the sixteen physics teachers east of the Mississippi River who participated in this program.

Mr. Arol Amling attended the University of Cincinnati on a National Defense Education Act Institute scholarship to further his knowledge of non-European history.

Designed for teachers able to speak and understand a foreign language, the Purdue University's National Defense Education Act Institute was attended by Mr. Donald Buckley. Mr. Buckley studied lab techniques, linguistics, and civilization.

While working on his Master's degree, Mr. Marvin Guernsey studied chemistry at Purdue University on a National Science Foundation Grant.

Working toward her doctorate, Mrs. Margaret Baird attended a workshop in family finance and economic education at the University of California. She received a scholarship for tuition for the summer session.

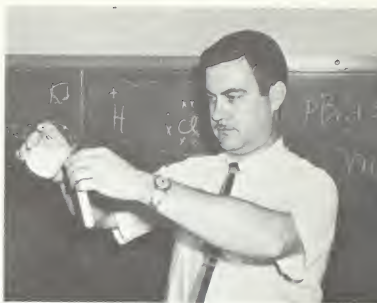

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT HEAD Mr. Jack Cantwell was given a fellowship to study at Cornell University over the summer.

A STUDY OF India and China was the main feature of the course taken by Mr. Arol Amling at the University of Cincinnati. He was awarded a scholarship for the summer session.

Mrs. Margaret Baird, head of the business department, was awarded a grant for summer study at the University of California.

A GRANT from Purdue University enabled chemistry teacher Mr. Marvin Guernsey to work on his Master's degree over the summer.

SPANISH TEACHER Mr. Donald Buckley received a scholarship from Purdue University to further his knowledge of languages.

GAA MEMBERS Karen Cruikshank, Marilyn Henke, and Jo Anne Rosenbaum congratulate girls' physical education teacher and GAA sponsor Miss Bernita Adkins on her recent appointment to State GAA Board.

LET'S LOOK AT ORGANIZATIONS . . .

. . . With 31 clubs at PHS, all of us can find at least one that we enjoy. We may be inducted into a student honorary; or if we are interested in a particular profession, we may join an academic club. Perhaps a language or literary club will fit our needs if we enjoy foreign customs or if we have some talent in the journalistic field. As members of the service clubs, we may perform vital services for the school. In the artistic and dramatic clubs, we learn self-expression. If we enjoy athletics or hobbies, we may join a sports or recreational club.

. . . Let's take time to learn more about the opportunities our organizations offer . . .

Composed of top-notch students from the junior and senior classes, the Portage Chapter of the National Honor Society was kept busy this year by President Mike Hynes. Each six weeks, Honor Society members compiled the honor roll list; a special committee was also chosen to work on the Alumni Book.

During April, 38 new members were inducted into Honor Society at a special convocation. Later in the year, all members attended the banquet where new members took the Honor Society pledge and received their pins. The Awards Day Convocation was planned through the efforts of this organization.

Through the combined efforts of some 50 students, the Student Council tried to better school life. Each Monday during homeroom the members met and discussed current problems. The Council took care of locker inspections, flag raisings, and cloak room assignments. Special committees planned convocations and ratified club constitutions. In March the Council sponsored a drive to solicit funds for the operation of Channel 11.

Guidance Council, in its fifth year at Portage, was founded by its present sponsor, Mr. Kenneth Woodruff. So far, Portage is the only one in the Calumet region to have a program of this type, although several other schools have shown interest in organizing one. The program has evolved from a twice-a-week presentation to the present system of once a week and two weeks in a homeroom. There were 96 students participating in the program this year.

The main objective of Guidance Council is to enrich the lives of the students with the various topics presented to them. A secondary benefit is to give the guidance counselors themselves poise in public speaking.

Admission to Guidance Council is on a selective basis. At the end of the term, teachers and members of Guidance Council nominate outstanding students for the next year's organization.

AFTER THE FBLA-sponsored demonstration on Micro-Sound Waves given by Mr. C. Sumpter Logan of General Telephone, Mr. Jack Contwell and members of his physics class gather around to look at the equipment and to ask questions.

In its third year at Portage, the FBLA, with Theatus Hinson as president, sponsored two programs by the General Telephone Company. Engineers gave speeches on "Micro Wave Magic" and "The History of Communications." Other activities included sponsoring the Secretarial Service Bureau, handling the awards given to the Outstanding Business Student and Miss Secretary, and hosting the Lake and Porter County Business Education Conference. Money-making projects were a bake sale, an after-game dance, and a swimming party.

Members of the Future Teachers of America heard several guest speakers, including a panel of 12 senior cadet teachers, and attended the FTA Convention at Indiana Central College this year. They also helped to provide two $200 scholarships for senior members by selling PHS pins and sponsoring a fudge sale and a sock hop. At a special meeting in May, new members were initiated by President Lynn Snider and heard a talk by the president of the Student Education Association of Valparaiso University.

... Sponsor Mock Election, Bake Sales, Parties

About 26 girls who look forward to careers in nursing were members of the Future Nurses Club this year and elected Mary Ann Barr president. The club sponsored a bake sale and a Roaring Twenties Dance to raise money for a scholarship in the field of nursing. The members also heard two guest speakers during the year, attended a Career Day at Mercy Hospital in Gary, and collected toys during the Christmas season for the children of a Portage family.

Two debates were held this year by the members of the Student Citizenship Society. The subjects were the 1964 presidential campaign and the crisis in Viet Nam. The club's purpose was to inform the students about the issues of their day. Its members sponsored the mock presidential election held for the entire school in November. In the club's second year, Mark Milach was elected president, and a flag which had been flown above the Capitol in Washington was purchased for the school.

"Los Conquistadores," the new Spanish club, elected Don Ember its first president and sponsored two bake sales and a dance during its first year. Profits from these events were donated to the fund for sending a student to Mexico during the summer—the club's goal for this and future years. At Christmas time 20 members formed a choir which learned Spanish carols, and many students enjoyed a Christmas party, "Las Posadas," with caroling in Spanish and a pinata. Interested members also took advantage of lessons in guitar and Spanish dancing.

In its second year the French club, "Les Copains," strove to give students an opportunity to speak French outside the classroom. Meetings were conducted entirely in French, and often included skits and songs. The club elected no officers to give all members experience in conducting the meetings. A highlight of the club's activities was a Christmas party at which "Le Pere Noel" put gifts in everyone's shoe, according to French custom.

MRS. ETHEL JONES admires the silver bowl given to her by the Latin Club at their annual banquet.

Many projects were undertaken by the German Club, "Der Deutsche Verein," in an effort to inspire the fluent use of German and acquaint students with the lives and activities of the German people. The club, which had about 45 members this year under the leadership of president John Martin, viewed slides of Germany, went to see a German movie, and took a field trip to Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry. In the fall, members enjoyed a German style picnic and hike and built the float which won second place in the Homecoming parade.

Activities of the Latin Club included taking a field trip, sponsoring a very successful bake sale, and building a Homecoming float. New members were initiated and received their Latin Club pins at a party held in December. The club had about 50 members this year and elected Charles Daniels its president. At the club's annual banquet at the year's end the members presented a skit pertaining to Roman history.

Watch Over Hallways

Movie screens and projectors, tape recorders, phonographs, microphones and other teaching aids were provided to teachers and various community groups by the 26 members of the Audio-Visual Club. The club received $5.00 from every after-game dance at which audio-visual equipment was used and then purchased additional equipment for the school. Improving the sound system in the all-purpose room was the main project of this year's club, whose president was Bud Hilty.

In the winter, a secretarial bureau was established to help the teachers with time-consuming tasks such as typing, grading tests, and running the duplicating machines. Junior and senior members of FBLA who were skilled in clerical work were assigned to the bureau and worked during study halls.

Nine students who have been trained in first aid techniques served as clinic helpers. About 15 girls with clerical skills gave several hours a week to working in the attendance and guidance offices.

The newly organized stamp and coin club chose to be known as the Phils and Nums. At the meetings held on the second and fourth Fridays of each month, the students traded and learned more about their hobby. Bob Hampton was elected president of the 15 active members.

The Chess Club, which met every Monday afternoon, had about 12 active members this year. The members, led by President Don Frye, graded themselves according to skill and ability and were able to reach a high level by challenging and defeating the better players.

Work during school hours and attending after-school sessions on Mondays and Thursdays, the 1965 Legend staff rushed to finish pages to meet their three major deadlines for this year's book. Individual staff members performed tasks such as selling ads, writing copy, planning layouts, typing triplicates, and proofreading. Due to this year's 50 per cent increase in sales, color and an increase in pages over last year's Legend were planned for the book.

Various workshops offered staff members the opportunity to gain new ideas and experience which would enable them to improve the Legend. These included Indiana University's Journalism Institute (attended by co-editors Linda Cooper and Peggy Parrott and business manager Diane Kubiak), the Indiana High School Press Association Convention at Franklin College, and a Journalism Seminar at Valparaiso University where three members of the staff were on panels. At the Journalism in May, members heard a talk by Mr. Dick Kennard of the Newsfoto Publishing Company on college publication staffs and careers in journalism.

As in the past, this year's Pow Wow was written and edited by members of two beginning journalism classes, an advanced journalism class, and several interested students who donated their time and efforts to the paper as an extra-curricular activity. The stories were assigned to the classes by the editor-in-chief, Treva Wilson, as their lessons in journalism. The Pow Wow, published every two weeks, had a staff of 35 which produced a newspaper that became the favorite way for students to catch up on the goings-on of the rest of the school.

The 17 members of the Library Club, with president Melodee Ronger, met every Tuesday for instructions in giving better service to library patrons. The members must know how to find books of every kind, so they will be able to help the other students. The Christmas season proved to be the busiest time of the year for the club members, who decorated a tree for the library and held a Christmas party at which they presented gifts to their sponsors.

Providing paperback books to students at low costs was the function of the Teen Book Club, which served the school by encouraging good reading at Portage. Through this program all types of paperbacks were made available to the students, who ordered the books through their homeroom representatives. Any student who bought five books was then entitled to one free.

Six sophomores, who were recommended by English teachers for their writing ability, worked on the News Bureau. These students wrote news stories concerning the school for publication in local newspapers. They gained valuable experience and also kept a scrapbook of all published stories for the use of future writers.

Members of Quill and Scroll, an international honorary for high school journalists, made arrangements for the Journalism Honors Banquet, which was held in May and attended by staff members of the Pow Wow, Legend, and the News Bureau. The members also planned the publications train in the Homecoming Parade.

Bids and advertisements for the various school dances were also silk screened. A trip to the Chicago Art Institute and the sponsorship of an all-school dance on March 19 were on the agenda for the year.

Members of the Drama Club presented two plays this year, and several members earned enough points to be admitted to Thespians. In November the club presented the Pulitzer prize-winning play "The Miracle Worker" and in April the comedy "You Can't Take It With You." Eight members participated in the speech contest at Ball State University, giving dramatic, humorous, and poetry readings. The club, with Kathy Ziegler as president, received much enthusiasm from its members and offered a $100 scholarship in the fine arts. The Thespians planned a picnic to induct new members at the year's end.

Entertain at Games, Cheer for Team Victories ...

"Fight, team, Fight!" was a common sound heard during homeroom as 150 Pep Club members tried their lungs in unison. Sponsor Bernita Adkins and President Sonja Cassidy were often seen discussing and gazing upon the appearance of 110 girls dressed in white shirts. At the Sectional, various cheers using club-made pom-poms and flash cards were performed with enthusiastic spirit. For money-making projects, the Pep Club sponsored an after-game dance and the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Also school insignias and Valentine hearts were sold.

Softball topped the list of Thursday activities performed by the Girls' Athletic Association. Softball was followed by volleyball, basketball, swimming, bowling, and golf as the year progressed. Under the direction of Sponsor Bernita Adkins, the girls participated in playdays and sport clinics with neighboring schools. GAA money-making projects included the annual Valentine Dance held in February and a sweatshirt sale. The year's activities were brought to a climax with a banquet held at Wellman's on May 27 in honor of the senior members. Awards, trophies, and a tribute to out-going President Marilyn Henke completed the GAA program.

TEAM CAPTAIN JaAnn Rosenbaum and Coach Larry Casbon briefs their squad between quarters at the GAA vs. Women Faculty basketball game.

Through the football and basketball seasons, the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman cheerleaders boosted team and school spirit by leading the pep block in organized cheers during the games. Early in October, the varsity cheerleaders participated in a cheerleading convention in Denver, Indiana, where they learned new cheers and exchanged ideas with cheerleaders from other schools. As their money-making project, the cheerleaders sponsored the first after-game dance.

Upholding the traditional Indian Dancers half-time entertainment during basketball season, six girls danced their steps to the steady beat of Candy Lord's tom-tom. Each dancer gave a great deal of her time to making an Indian costume and to practicing during homerooms and after school.

The Letterman's Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Harold Cox and Mr. Robert Smith, sold home-game programs and attended the concession stand during the games as money-making projects. To be eligible, each boy had to earn a major varsity letter. This year's president was Paul Boyette.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT SPORTS . . .

. . . Portage takes pride in its sports. Whether boosting our Indians to a Conference victory in football or cheering for a precious point at the basketball sectional playoffs, we are always there, supporting our team and taking pride in its accomplishments. The runner, golfer, swimmer, wrestler, and baseball player has a chance to participate in his chosen sport, in which he can cultivate his interest and build his skills. The intramural and physical education programs offer increased chances for fun and learning at the same time.

. . . Let's take time to salute and support our teams . . .

Physical Education Classes Stress Student Fitness

TOUCH THOSE TOES! Girls in the first hour physical education classes do their morning exercises before they get down to their classtime activities.

Five hours a day, Miss Bernita Adkins conducted physical education classes for girls. Each class began with ten minutes of calisthenics and then a sport from the individual, dual, or team sections. Military marching, tumbling, and archery were included in the individual sports. Dual activities consisted of co-educational dancing and badminton. Some of the team sports learned by the girls were basketball, field hockey, and softball. Also included in this required course were body mechanics and participation in the National Fitness Test.

Mr. Harold Cox divided the boys' physical education activities into six areas: team games, individual and dual sports, dancing, gymnastics, and physical fitness. Some of the activities besides the regular calisthenics that the boys did each day were rope climbing, pyramid building, weight lifting, speedball, and rope skipping. To complete the course, there were lectures on motivation and movies demonstrating the rules and objects of some of the class activities.

Frosh Footballers End Season with 1-3-1 Record

A FROSH FOOTBALLER learns what it means to keep low as he attempts to out-maneuver his opponent during one of their after-school practices.

Though winning only one game and tying another, Coach Arol Amling's freshman football team kept up its drive in every game until the last second.

Freshman football was the proving-grounds again this year for future varsity players. Here the players learned the fundamentals of football and the good sportsmanship required in all athletic contests. The spirit that will hold the team together throughout high school becomes evident at this stage in training.

Closing the season with a record of 3-3-1, Coach James Gland's Junior Varsity Football squad showed fine promise of varsity material for next year's season. Earlier in the season Tony McCarty, a tackle, was recruited for the varsity squad.

Outstanding players were half-back Mike Ballas, who was the leading ground gainer and right end Skip Stout, with the most receptions.

High scorer for the team was Rick Crownover with 34 points. Others in the scoring column were Bob Jackson, 26 points; Skip Stout, 24 points; Greg Metzcus, 6 points; and Mike Ballas, 3 points.

Finish with 5-4-1 Record

Coach Robert Smith's squad tied Merrillville to share the Calumet Conference crown this year after losing it to Calumet and Griffith last year.

The most important game was with East Gary which gave the gridders a chance to compete in the CC championship. In the last five minutes, two TD's were scored to beat East Gary 13 to 12.

In rushing, the squad outdistanced opponents 1421 yards to their 1054 yards. Fullback Tom Trumble led the scoring for the varsity team this year with three touchdowns and seven extra points. Halfback Stan Crowe led in individual rushing by carrying the ball 116 times and gaining a total of 462 yards.

Center Al Bradford made the honorary all-conference football team with end Terry Ehlers and tackle Tom Reynolds receiving honorable mention. Bob Hampton, a senior guard, was chosen to receive the title of "Mr. Football."

This year's varsity team was coached by Mr. Robert Smith who was assisted by Mr. Arol Amling, Mr. James Gland, Mr. James Douglas, and Mr. Robert Kerns.

Portage trackmen placed ninth in the Calumet Conference with a 3-4 record. Records were shattered this year by two underclassmen. Junior Dick Holm broke the previous 120 yard high hurdle record with a speedy 16.1 seconds. Also, Ed Stout cleared the high bar with a record jump of 5'10".

In the conference meet held at Griffith this year, Portage had a hard time keeping up with their speedy rivals. However, three individual honors were captured: Ed Stout, 3rd in the high jump; Jim Samuel, 4th in the 880 run; and Dick Holm in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Although faced with a tough schedule, Coach Al Smith's Harriers ended the season with a 4-12 record. With only three returning lettermen and numerous injuries, the runners placed 12th in the Calumet Conference race, 9th in the Andean invitationals, 24th in the Hobart Invitationals, and 17th in the Sectionals.

Those named as lettermen with their fastest respective times were: senior Ron Ozbolt (9:56); junior Dave Strom (10:27); sophomore Bob Ozbolt (10:28); and juniors Bill Thomas (10:44), and John Doyen (10:59).

With six returning lettermen from last year, the Portage wrestling team, led by Coach Robert Sobczak in his second year, ended a comparatively successful season with a 6,7 overall record. The team placed fourth in the Calumet Conference with senior Edgor Hall winning in the 145 pound class. Six wrestlers were sent to the sectional meets held at Wirt, where Portage placed third. Seniors Bob Hampton, in the 154 pound class, and Richard Longmore, 133 pound class, won their sectional matches and thus qualified for the regionals held at East Chicago Washington.

Mr. Sobczak died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage on March 13, 1965. He coached the wrestling team for two years and the swimming team for one year.

"The Loopers" also took the tourney in their division while "The Supremes" captured the junior-senior league. Sponsors Harvey Noland and David Keammerer coached about 200 athletes this year. Because of the large number of participants, the teams were divided into freshman-sophomore and junior-senior leagues.

TAKING TIME FROM LESSONS to participate in intramurals, Krittter teammates Dale Lindstrom, Al Kraft, and Leonord Lindstrom warm up for a game.

Coach Harold Cox's roundballers had a fine year as they emerged with an overall record of 15-9 and 7-4 in the Calumet Conference to tie for third place.

Twice this year the century mark was hit as the Indians rolled over Chesterton, 103-70, and Lowell, 102-62, which contributed greatly to Portage's leading the conference in scoring. Leading scorer this year was senior Norm Harris with 386 points and a 16.1 point average. A tremendous help in rebounding was given by Bruce Funkey, 6'5" senior, who became eligible at the mid-portion of the season.

Sectional play showed Portage playing Valparaiso in the finals after the Indians defeated three teams—Jackson, Chesterton, and Morgan. Despite a strong fourth quarter scoring spree, Portage lost 97-79. Two guards from Portage—junior Jim Samuel and senior Al Bradford—were chosen for the All-Sectional Team this year.

Coach Al Smith's Junior Varsity team posted a 6-12 record. The team had no junior players for support until the last few games when Lindner, Holms, and Wilson were recruited from the Varsity to help out.

Bradford's No-Hitter Highlights Baseball Season

The varsity baseball team finished the season with a record of 8 wins, 7 defeats, and 1 tie. The high-point of the season came when senior Al Bradford pitched a non-hit, no-run game against Griffith.

This was Coach Harvey Noland's last season as baseball coach. In his eight years of coaching, he has obtained the respect of many of Portage's athletes.

Golfers Set Records, Anticipate Future Seasons

A good season for the golfers turned into a losing one when the team had to forfeit 5 of their victories because of ineligibility of one of the players. The team finished the season with a 3-16 record for overall games and a 2-9 record in conference games. The JV team was beset by no such headaches as they blasted through the season with a perfect record of 5-0.

LET'S LOOK AT PERSONALITIES . . .

. . . Portage personalities are short, tall, lean, and fat. Some are vivacious, some are quiet, and some are just friendly people we see in the halls everyday. But, no matter what type they may be, we are proud that they help formulate our "tribe" of Portage Indians.

. . . Two members of our faculty, Mr. George Myers and Mrs. Ethel Jones, retired this year after many years of valuable and faithful service to the Portage schools. During the past few years, two new elementary schools in Portage were named in honor of these outstanding teachers.

. . . Let's give recognition to our school personalities . . .

Let's Take

a Look at . . .

Personalities

SUPERINTENDENT'S ASSISTANT
Mr. James Gland goes over the day's schedule with Mr. John Hevel, who serves as administrative assistant in the high school office.

Through the efforts of Mr. Bryan Shaddick, principal of Portage High School, and Mr. Richard Wilson, assistant principal, the past year was kept running smoothly in regard to student-teacher relationships.

Mr. Wilson handled most of the discipline problems, while Mr. Shaddick spent most of his time working on the plans for the new addition to the high school. Together these two administrators saw to it that all departments were coordinated and that teachers' meetings were conducted regularly.

PRINCIPAL BRYAN SHADDICK and Assistant Principal Richard Wilson confer briefly in Mr. Shaddick's office.

The School Board spent much of its time this year working on the building plans for the new additions to the Portage schools. In addition to his regular duties of hiring teachers and carrying out policies set up by the School Board, Mr. Wallace Aylesworth, superintendent, worked closely with the Board in coordinating these building plans.

New classrooms for three elementary schools, as well as science labs, industrial arts shops, and a cafeteria for the high school were to be added to the schools. Actual work on these buildings began in the spring of this year, and the School Board expected all the new additions to be ready for the predicted increased enrollment in September of 1966.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS Wallace Aylesworth serves as chief administrator for the entire Portage school system.

Seniors Anticipate Graduation, College, Careers

Looking forward to the excitement of their last year, 277 seniors began in September with a tingle of anticipation mixed with a little regret.

Seeking information about colleges and jobs, the seniors heard representatives from different occupational fields at Career Day which was sponsored by the guidance office. Also, graduates of Portage who were enrolled in various colleges spoke to the college-bound seniors about campus life and customs.

Seniors attended the Christmas Dance, "Winter Enchantment," which their class sponsored for the student body, and impersonated television stars at their class party "Channel 65." The Prom, with its traditional Grand March and exciting formality, was given by the junior class in honor of the 1965 graduates.

As the seniors listened to the message at Baccalaureate and solemnly marched down the aisle at Commencement to receive their diplomas, they each silently recounted the frolics and heartaches of high school life and prepared themselves to meet the world and its many challenges.

GARYON JACK WHITLOW

JETHRO L. BAKER, a member of the Senior Class and a Portage student since first grade, died on February 2, 1965, following an operation to correct a heart ailment discovered this past year.

Jethro had been interested in music since seventh grade when he joined the junior high band; later in high school he was a member of the percussion section of the Concert Band. His interest in music was carried over to his outside activities when he became a member of the "C Notes," a local dance band which often played at street dances held in the Portage Mall.

Ham radio operation was Jethro's hobby, on which he and his father spent a great deal of time. In his freshman year, Jethro was vice-president of the Radio Club.

Jethro applied to Purdue University to begin his college education after he graduated. But, he was taken away from his family and us—his life-long friends—before he could fulfill his dreams and live the life that such a person as he deserved.

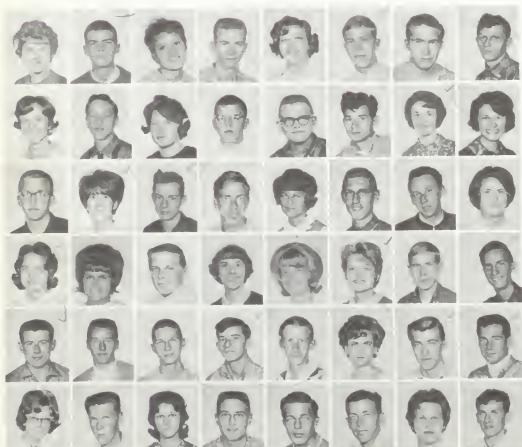

As they took another step toward the end of their high school careers, the 356 juniors sponsored dances and a candy sale in the community bringing in $2,000 to the junior class treasury.

The class rings, ordered late in the spring of the sophomore year, proved to be a source of pride for the juniors, as the rings were the first to bear the official PHS crest.

The junior Homecoming float, a large electric mixer with the slogan "Beat 'em Up," won first prize in the competition with floats from the three other classes.

Arranged and financed by the junior class, the Prom and After-Prom party were held on May 15 in honor of the graduating class.

Sophomores Learn, Apply Skills in Drivers' Ed...

The focal point of the 1964-65 sophomore class was on activity this year. Aside from the fact that they sponsored and attended two class parties, "Superstition" and "King of the Road," they became involved in many other school affairs. Their membership in various clubs and organizations was extremely high this year, ranging from academic groups to cheerleaders and lettermen.

The sophomore class officers organized and carried out planned activities for the entire class. Besides the two class parties, the ordering of class pins and rings was on the year's agenda. Senior sweaters to be ordered in the junior year were considered.

from dancing to enjoy refreshments at their class party "King of the Road."

Frosh Learn Traditions of High School Life...

Starting off their high school careers, the freshmen, helped by members of the guidance department, planned their preliminary four year schedules to find the general direction they planned to follow in high school. A major item in their first year was getting acquainted. A good means of getting together with their friends was found through joining clubs and attending sports events, plays, dances, concerts, and their class party, "Hillbilly Hub House."

The traditional freshman bonfire was again built for the Homecoming game. Just before the start of the game, the freshmen joined in a "snake" dance across the football field.

PARTICIPATING IN SPORTS during their freshman year gives boys experience in teamwork for future teams.

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT BUSINESSES . . .

. . . Business in Portage has a bright future. The planned port on Lake Michigan will bring new industries which will draw people to this area. The population increase will benefit existing small businesses and cause new ones to develop. The enrollment at PHS will grow with community development. Coupled with the general increase in the buying power of high schoolers, this enrollment increase will result in an enormous "student market," or student buying force. The advertisers in this section are aware of these trends. With anticipation, they open their doors to you. . . . Let's see what they have to offer us . . .

Let's Take

a Look at . . .

Businesses

Ondras Auto Center Specializes in Body Repair

TAKING PRIDE in his craft, Mr. John Ondras attends to this minute detail while preparing a car for finishing.

Serving the Portage—East Gory area for over 18 years, ONDRAS AUTO CENTER boasts reliable and speedy service. Though specializing in body repair and finishing, the center also offers spare-part service through regional dealers. ONDRAS AUTO CENTER is known for the quality of its work and for the care it gives each job, no matter how large or small it may be. Owned and operated by Mr. John Ondras, a Portage resident, ONDRAS AUTO CENTER is the place to go to solve all your automobile problems. Call 962-1601 or visit the shop at 1101 Central Avenue, East Gory.

Companies Supply Materials for PHS'ers

Many creative things besides floats start at WILLOWCREEK LUMBER COMPANY, 555 Willowcreek Road. Materials for everything from beautiful homes to woodcraft projects are available. The lumber for the shop house in Sarasota Heights came from Willowcreek Lumber, as did the lumber for so many beautiful homes which have sprung up in Portage.

JUNIORS TOM ARDEN and Glorio Ringer decorate the giant mixer with flowers. The float, "Whip 'em," took first in the Homecoming parade.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS student Tom Polmer checks a circuit while working on the house being built by his shop class.

Wiring projects on the shop house in Sarasota Heights near completion with materials from PORTAGE ELECTRIC SUPPLY CORPORATION, 1281 Melton Road. The house is in its second year of construction. Portage Electric also supplies decorative light fixtures, fluorescent or incandescent, to beautify any room in your home.

Businesses in Portage Offer Products, Services to

Mr. Robert Schumöcker takes Mr. Jerome Vaughn's 6th hour economics class on an informative tour of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Volparaíso, Portage Branch, 13195 Central Avenue.

Before you build, contact PORTAGE REAL ESTATE, 12072 Central Avenue, for the best advice possible.

The reliable hands of Mr. Nat Trocino, chief pharmacist of PORTAGE DRUGS, Central Avenue, carefully prepare a prescription.

PHS Student Consumers

Freshmen Marty Nehring and Mike Grimm stop for a quick snack at MAC'S CONFECTIONERY, 12805 McCosland Road.

Senior Peggy Lambert models a fall selection of MARIE'S DRESS SHOP, Portage Mall, where all lovely wardrobes start.

FLOOR TILE

CLAUSSEN AND SCHARF HOME IMPROVEMENT CENTER, at the corner of Central and Willowcreek, will help you with all your decorating and remodeling problems. For your convenience, they also carry a complete line of hardware in their recently expanded store.

Lunch Starts with Hearty Food, Healthful Milk

The bright red and white milk carton of HAWTHORNE-MELODY FARMS, DAIRY, INCORPORATED, Gory, takes its traditional place in front of Phyllis Frozier's lunch tray.

Fomished Ron Kornes enjoys one of the millions of noontime meals which were prepared with food from EDWARD DON AND COMPANY, 2201 S. LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Mass producing meals for over a thousand people daily is a big task for cooks like Mrs. Thomae, who often uses supplies from PREMIER SUPER MARKET, 1028 E. Lincolnway, Valparaiso.

PHS Students Trade in Portage, Near-by Miller

Oscar Jolly of CHUCK & OSCAR'S BARBER SHOP, Central Avenue, guarantees, with a Chuck-le, a Jolly good hair cut.

For special moments like this one, make sure you look your best with a hair style from MARY'S BEAUTY SHOP, 11777 Melton Road.

Live in beautiful TED'S EAST-TOWN MOBILE HOME CITY and enjoy the comforts of modern trailer living.

THE PORTAGE WAVE, on May 27, joined the community in congratulating the class of 1965.

Peggy Lambert insists that MILLER DRUGS, 540 S. Lake Street, has a loveable gift for any occasion.

Ben Sentoro deposits his savings at the drive-up window at CHESTERTON STATE BANK, Portage Branch, 1111 Melton Road. The window is just one of the many added conveniences that make saving wiser, checking safer, and banking in general more fun.

Teens Make Use of the Finer Things in Life

Funny, how interested people get in the POW WOW. Buy a subscription and save.

Two Businesses Join Growing Downtown District

Senior Melodee Ranger starts the fall term right by sending her wardrobe to ARTISTIC CLEANERS, Central of Willowcreek. Besides dry cleaning, ARTISTIC launders shirts, stores furs and other items, hand customs special articles, and does major repair work. The reliable firm which has served the Coluemet area for over 20 years opened its Portage Branch November 23, 1964.

W. E. WHITE MORTGAGE COMPANY, INC. opened their Portage Branch in the Portage Mall this year, bringing with it the service and reliability for which the home office in Volporeaiso is famous. The firm is affiliated with Allanson Insurance, White Insurance, and the Indiono Corporation. Let them help you with your plans for the future.

Variety of Services Are Available in Portage,

Seniors Claude Strain and Peggy Lambert admire one of the many unusual plants on display at STRAIN'S GREENHOUSE, 11560 E. 29th Avenue.

Let a savings account at FARMERS STATE BANK, BURNS HARBOR BRANCH, open the doors to higher education for you. The bank is located at the junction of U.S. 20 and State Road 149.

Harvey Brittan of HARVEY'S CONOCO SERVICE STATION, 2512 Willowdale, is famous for his expert service.

Near-by Communities

Freshman Melodie Brooks chooses a new item for her school wardrobe at LILI LADIES APPAREL, 610 S. Loke Street, Miller.

When real estate problems hove you treed, call GORE REALTY, 11150 Centrol Avenue.

We're not just barking when we say that PORTAGE REFRIGERATION, 9645 Centrol Avenue, has the best dog-gone service in town.

Let BUY LOW SUPERMARKET, Centrol Avenue in East Gory, help plan your party refreshments as they did for the Valentine Dance.

PHS'ers Save, Spend, and Stretch Income

At FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF VAL-PAISO, Portage Branch, 13181 Central Avenue, Freshman John

Tzitz is certain that he can get the best return from his savings.

Freshman Connie Biggs chooses this exciting fragrance from the money on display at WILSON'S PHARMACY, 11715 Melton Road.

You don't have to run out of gas to find out that CONTACT AUTO SERVICE, 11890 Central, can help you with any auto problem.

For the taps in fashion, says Junior Linda Moore, always shop at COURTESY DEPARTMENT STORE, 3525 Central, East Gary.

The sweet fragrance of roses from KELLEN'S HOBART FLOWER SHOP, 409 Main Street, are always a welcome gift, says Jayce Mead.

Teens Enjoy Contributing to America's Economy

Senior Peggy Lambert chooses a gift and an appropriate card from the many on display at HILLCREST PHARMACY, Jct. U.S. 6 & 51, Hobart.

Bank of PORTAGE NATIONAL BANK, Portage Mall,—the only area bank with its home office in Portage—and save for the future.

Be 'King of the Road' With a Bickel's Trailer

Diane Mitchell tours the latest display trailer at BICKEL'S MOBILE HOME CENTER, visual proof that trailer living is modern living.

"We sell the best and service the rest," claims BICKEL'S MOBILE HOME CENTER, U.S. 20 west of Samuelson Road. Besides offering the best in mobile homes, Bickels also sells trailer appliances, including awnings, for all models. Whether you're looking for a camper for a weekend jog along Lake Michigan, or for a spacious, modern mobile home for residence, BICKEL'S is the place to visit. There is a convenient plan for those wishing to buy on installment. New and used models are available. The next time you're in the market for a "home on wheels," phone BICKEL'S, 762-2281.

Acknowledgments

This yearbook represents a lot of study, hard work, tears, and good times for all of us. We would especially like to thank our sponsor Mr. Rhude, our photographer Mr. Allen, and the entire faculty and administration for all the help they have given. We sincerely hope that this Legend will be enjoyed and cherished as a lasting memento of the 1965 school year at Portage.
